

CHRIST UNITED METHODIST CHURCH

Connecting people to Jesus so that lives, families, and community can be restored.

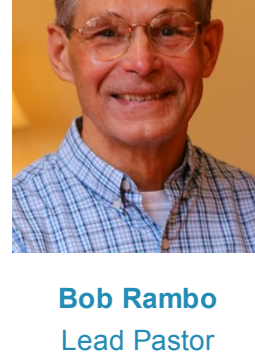

September 23, 2020

Right now in worship at Christ United, we are in a series called DISRUPTED. It's appropriate because disruption has been the story of our lives in 2020. Last Sunday in Traditions, I shared this:

We human beings are always in ONE of THREE places:

- ORIENTATION – where everything feels good and life makes sense
- DISORIENTATION – our world gets DISRUPTED and we're left stumbling through the wreckage
- REORIENTATION – the place where we discover God hasn't left us after all and is actually creating and calling us into a new and different future.

Bob Rambo
Lead Pastor

This rhythm of orientation, disorientation, and reorientation is not a pleasant journey – but it's the process God uses to help us grow spiritually and otherwise. God doesn't create all the disruptions in our lives, but God uses disruption to deepen our faith and form us into the image of Jesus. When we go through times of disruption, we want them to end as soon as possible. But don't run away from disruption. Our disruptions are times to sit and wait with God, to discover what God is doing in the chaos around us.

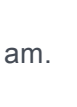

We're all in one of these places today. Which one are you in?

Make it a GREAT week!

Group Life @ Christ United

We are currently offering the opportunity for groups of 17 or fewer to use the church building to meet. We are asking that you maintain the recommended COVID protection guidelines. Rooms will be accessible Monday through Friday (no weekends). There are three time slots for each of those days (7-10am, 11am-2pm, 4-8pm). This allows for us to clean each room properly after each use. If you would like to meet on campus, please contact Cathy Shofner by email at connections@christunitedjxn.org.

Are you looking for a great guide to studying God's Word throughout your week? If you would like to know more about the daily SOAP study or want to sign up to receive the link via text or email each Monday - Friday morning, Click HERE for more information or to sign up.
